What this milestone is for

A poster session is a chance to show your work to the people who matter to your career. This milestone asks your group to invite them.

What to do

At least one member of your group publishes a LinkedIn post inviting their professional and personal network to your poster presentation at the Spring Undergraduate Research Conference. The post includes, exactly as listed in the official conference program:

- the poster title;
- the team members;
- the date and time of your presentation;
- the location (building and room or space).

Write in a professional tone for a public audience, say that you are presenting at Purdue University's Spring Undergraduate Research Conference, and encourage your network to come. You may add a visual (a team photo, a project logo, a graphic from the poster), and you may tag Professor Moreira: https://www.linkedin.com/in/davimoreira/.

An example (you do not have to follow it):

> I am excited to share that my QM47400 Predictive Analytics team, mentored by Prof. Moreira, will present our research project at Purdue University's Spring Undergraduate Research Conference!
>
> Poster title: [your project title] · Team members: [every member's full name] · Date and time: [from the conference program] · Location: [building and room or space]
> Our project explores [one or two sentences on the focus and its impact]. We would be delighted if you could join us. #Purdue #DanielsSchoolofBusiness #UndergraduateResearch #DataScience #PredictiveAnalytics #BoilerUp

What to submit

One member uploads `NN_linkedin.pdf` for the whole group: a screenshot of the published post, saved as a PDF.

How it is graded

This milestone is graded for completion: a screenshot, by the deadline, of a published post that contains the title, the team members, the date and time, and the location.

Tips

- Wait for the official program, then copy the title, the time and the location from it exactly.
- Agree in the group on who posts, so the post is up well before the due date.

- Read the post once as a stranger would: would you know where to go, and when?

The Final Project Overview PDF has every date, the meeting rounds, and how the project is graded.
